Membership & Marketing Committee

Join the AVEM Membership Committee to help spread the word about AVEM and build your association's membership rolls. Any and all aspects of membership development are open to your talents, interests, and contributions. As a Membership Team member, you could develop targeted prospective member lists; help develop a recruitment program; act as an AVEM Ambassador at events; assist with the development of promotional materials; and provide guidance to the AVEM Board of Directors on membership issues, including recommended membership categories and dues structure.

The Marketing Team is responsible for raising additional revenue for the association to help fund programs. The committee guides the production of and ad sales in the AVEM Resource Guide; develops guidelines and rates for AVEM Web site advertising; and recommends other non-dues revenue programs, such as literature displays at exhibitions. Provide your marketing knowledge to the association to help increase the quality and number of programs offered to benefit members.

Statistics Committee

AVEM is an active participant on the International Statistics on Vacuum Technology (ISVT) Working Group. The ISVT program, developed by AVEM in cooperation with JVIA (Japan Vacuum Industry Association), EVTA (European Vacuum Technology Association), and SEMI (Semiconductor Equipment and Materials International), collects sales data on vacuum components for North America, Japan, Europe, and the rest of world on a quarterly basis. For these four regions of the world, vacuum market segmentation sales data by product is collected annually. Members of the Statistics Committee provide AVEM's input into the ISVT Working Group to ensure the program operates to the benefit of member participants.
